Re: Bid No.: BC-01-16-03-22

Dear Committee Members:

It is with great pleasure that we submit this bid proposal on behalf of Banks & Morris, P.A. We believe that the information provided in this bid proposal demonstrates why our firm is the best candidate for the award of the Legal Services for Public Defender Conflict Cases Misdemeanor/Traffic Contract. We take pride in being able to confidently convey to the Committee Members that there is no person or firm better suited or better able to perform the terms of the Misdemeanor/Traffic Contract than Banks & Morris, P.A. The information contained herein should help each Committee Member discern what places our firm's qualifications above and beyond those of all other applicants.

We have attempted to format this bid proposal in a "user friendly" manner by addressing the relevant and pertinent information in specified subheadings. We are hopeful that this aids in directing each Committee Member's attention to the qualifications our firm maintains.

Attorneys:

The firm is comprised of three attorneys. The firm intends to divide and apportion the cases internally among the three attorneys in a manner most conducive to the prompt attention to the client's needs and the efficient resolution of matters pending before the Court to prevent unnecessary and unwarranted delay. As such, each attorney is in essence the "lead attorney." However, James C. Banks and Robert A. Morris are the partners of the firm and they would jointly serve the role of administrator and/or supervisor of the aforementioned Contract for the firm.

The attorneys of Banks & Morris, P.A. have handled over 10,000 cases including over 30 first-degree murder cases. Each attorney is experienced in handling a wide variety of criminal cases including sex offenses, theft, robbery, D.U.I., burglary, traffic offenses, and varying degrees and types of batteries and assaults. This list is far from exhaustive in terms of the types of cases the attorneys in the firm have handled. It is fair to say that each attorney has extensive experience with virtually every type of misdemeanor and traffic crime cognizable.

It is difficult to accurately pinpoint the number of misdemeanor and traffic cases or a percentage of such cases that have been handled each year because of the extent of the experience of the attorneys in the firm. It is a safe estimate that each attorney has handled hundreds of misdemeanor and traffic cases and those cases likely comprise twenty percent of the firm's annual practice. Mr. Dombrowsky was even assigned to the misdemeanor division while employed with the Office of the Public Defender. We have taken the liberty of attaching resumes of each attorney in the firm as well as their individual trial lists and appeal lists. This information should provide an extensive overview of each attorney's qualifications as well as provide an exact number of trials handled in conjunction with the complexity of those trials. Listed below is a brief overview of the educational and professional experience of each attorney.

James C. Banks graduated from Florida State University with a degree in Criminology in 1976 and Capital University Law School in 1979. He has 23 years experience in handling thousands of criminal cases in both State and Federal Court, including over 30 First Degree Murder cases. He has also handled federal drug conspiracies, complex fraud and white collar crimes, robberies, burglaries, sex crimes, thefts, and DUI. He is a former State Prosecutor, and an adjunct professor in the FSU School of Criminology. He has delivered lectures in courses in criminology and psychology at FSU and numerous law enforcement training academies. He served on the Florida Sentencing Commission for 6 years after appointments by Governor Martinez and Governor Chiles. He is the author of ELCA Death Penalty Social Statement, and several chapters in the Florida Prosecutors Manual (1982) and Florida Dissolution of Marriage Manual (1980's). In addition to his active criminal defense practice, he handles Appeals (with over 70 written opinions), Marital and Family law cases, Wills and Probate. He is a member of the Florida Bar, Georgia

Technology:

Our firm has the latest technological capabilities and devices. The firm utilizes electronic research databases for the most current research available. We have five dedicated telephone lines and a facsimile line. Each computer has high speed internet access. Each computer has access to the Criminal Justice Information System (CJIS) and we have taken the appropriate steps to make certain that we are prepared to upgrade to the new Justice Information System (JIS) which is being implemented at the end of this month.

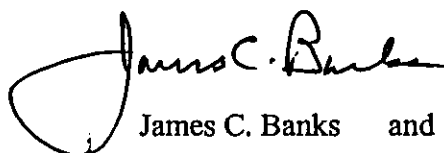

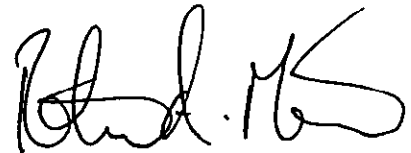

Cost Analysis:

Our firm is prepared to accept the public defender misdemeanor and traffic conflict cases at a rate of two hundred seventy five dollars ($275.00) for the first case and one hundred twenty five dollars ($125.00) for each second case/companion case for the same defendant. This proposed amount shall include all costs associated with providing legal services for a specific case through disposition and post-disposition motions and orders. The proposed amount includes all legal services including the attorney's personal service fee, photocopying, long distance telephone calls, mileage, parking, office supplies, office space, materials, equipment, and facilities necessary for the performance of legal services under this agreement. Items not included in this proposed amount are expert witness fees, medical records, exhibits, court interpreters, process serving, necessary investigations, and transcripts. It is our understanding that in the event these costs are incurred they will be reimbursed. Finally, this proposed amount encompasses the effective legal representation in misdemeanor and traffic cases exclusive of handling appeals.

Conclusion:

We are confident that the information contained in this bid proposal and in the attached documents highlight why our firm is best suited for the award of the contract at issue. Each member of our firm is prepared to serve our clients to the best of our ability. We look forward to any questions the Committee Members may have and a furtherance of our business relationship with Leon County.

Sincerely,

James C. Banks and Robert A. Morris
